[From the Harrisburg Patriot.]

A NEGRO CANDIDATE.

The Radical list of candidates for State Senator in the first district has been increased by a negro, who longs to distinguish himself in the legislative halls of Pennsylvania. To the names of Morris, Moran, Lyndall, Titternary, and a dozen of others, must be added that of Octavius V. Cato. If there be anything in a name, and there is certainly nothing in his color, that prevents him from being a Radical candidate, he is just the man for State Senator. Radicals in that body have great need of a statesman of the stern Roman virtues of a Cato. In the resolution presenting Mister Cato, the colored suffragans of the first district intimate that they will no longer be hewers of wood and drawers of water. By this they do not mean that they will cease to chop wood, tote water, dump coal, black boots and do other chores for their white fellow-citizens of Philadelphia. It is a figure of speech by which they convey the hint that they will not be used merely to vote the Radical ticket, but must have their full share of the honors and emoluments of office. This is Congo gratitude towards those who have bestowed the boon of the ballot. The glorious privileges of suffrage conveyed by the fifteenth amendment are contemptuously described in the figurative language of South street as the hewing of wood and drawing of water. The negroes of the First district basely fly in the faces of their white brethren and demand the nomination for State Senator. If this does not fill the heart of every radical patriot within the bounds of that district with disgust we have utterly failed to comprehend the nature of the animal. That the negroes of Philadelphia, to whom the ballot was given that they might swell the party vote, should insist on holding the offices into the bargain is more than the good temper of the politician of the radical persuasion in that city can be expected to bear. But he will soon discover that he must grin and bear it.

In South Carolina and other portions of the reconstructed South the negroes have pretty nigh ceased to hew wood and draw water in the political camp of their allies. A negro Secretary of State, three negro members of Congress, and negroes in numerous other public positions, show their understanding of the 15th amendment in South Carolina. This was not the programme of the carpet-baggers, who expected a life estate in the offices of that State by means of negro votes. In their disgust at negro ingratitude and white supercilliousness, many of them are now leaving that country for that country's good. Candor compels the admission that the blacks who have been elected to office in South Carolina are the superiors of their carpet-bag rivals. Far be it from us, however, to institute a comparison between Octavius Vespasianus Cato and his intelligent and distinguished white competitors for the Radical nomination for Senator in the first district of Philadelphia.

The eyes of the country are now fixed on the 1st district. Here is an opportunity for the Radicals of Philadelphia to give a signal test of the sincerity of their convictions. If negroes are good enough for voters, let the Radicals show that they are good enough also to represent Philadelphia in the State Legislature. There should be no wriggling in the Loyal League on Broad street. The members of that political association clamored loudly for the ratification of the fifteenth amendment in this State. They sent representatives to the capital who violated their official oaths and trampled on the Constitution of the Commonwealth by voting for the ratification. The mutilated Constitution stands to-day with the word white written all over it as a monument of the perfidy and obsequiousness of the representatives of the people of Pennsylvania. But that is past. The revolution has been effected by fraud, but it is none the less a revolution. It has all the virtue and validity of the solemn and deliberate decree of the people.

Let the white Radicals of Philadelphia accept the situation with the best grace. A negro demands, as proof of their sincerity, a seat in the Senate of Pennsylvania under an amendment which was ratified against the will of the people.

HISTORY REPEATING ITSELF—GEORGE III. AND ULYSSES I.

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette, speaking of General Grant's employment of the army against the people for the purpose of controlling elections, says:

It is most remarkable the similarity of the conduct of the President of the United States in 1870, and that of King George in 1770—one hundred years ago—and the American people might derive great profit from a perusal of a history of the Boston massacre, and see in the accounts of that event how thoroughly history repeats itself. In view of what has transpired in New York and other States, where the military force has been used to control elections, and the orders issued directing a large force to be sent to Georgia to intimidate the people, and, if possible, carry the election in favor of the infamous clique now robbing the people of that State, that portion of American history is important and significant.

"Then," says the historian, "the King insisted upon his right to quarter soldiers among the people to compel them to obey the laws," and the supporters of the royal pretensions used almost the same arguments in defence of King George that the Radical papers now use in defence of the action of the administration in "quartering soldiers among the people," under the pretence of supporting a law of Congress. Such arguments did not satisfy Joseph Warren, Samuel Adams and the people of Boston and Massachusetts, nor of Maryland and Virginia.

They are not satisfactory to the people of the country to-day; and if the Radical leaders persist in following the example of George, the parallel in the two cases may be still further carried out. One thing is evident, as the use of the military in Boston, in 1770, aroused the whole people of the country in opposition to the tyranny and oppression of England, so the use of the military, in 1870, in the late elections, and the threat to use army in Georgia and other States, where the elections are to be held, for a similar purpose, have awakened a feeling of indignation against the Radical party throughout the land, which will be as fatal to them as it was to the pretensions of King George.

CARRIER PIGEONS.

Carrier pigeons, it is announced, are now the only means of communication between Paris and Tours, where the seat of government of France has been temporarily established. Since the introduction of the electro-magnetic telegraph the use of carrier pigeons has nearly been discontinued, although this means of conveying secret intelligence is still employed. They have, however, been more used in the Turkish dominion than in any part of the world. The advantages to be derived from carrier pigeons are very limited, as they cannot be dispatched to their homes except under peculiar circumstances. Thus carrier pigeons must be brought from the place to which they are to return within a short period, not exceeding two weeks of their being let loose, and at a time when they have their young in their nests. The bird must also be kept in the dark, and without food for eight or ten hours, before being released. The message is written on very thin paper, and enclosed in an envelope tied around the body and under the wings. Another inconvenience, when the journey is for a long distance, arises from the bird's alighting in quest of water, by which the message may receive injury or be obliterated. In order to alleviate the pangs of thirst it is customary to bathe the pigeon's feet in vinegar, so as to keep them cool. The instinct by which the carrier pigeon is guided has never received a sufficient explanation, as other birds possess equal and even greater powers of vision, but cannot be trained to carry messages. When the carrier is let loose it rises spirally in the air to a great height, and then proceeds to its home at the rate of thirty miles an hour. The carrier pigeon is of a remarkably large size, being fifteen inches in length from the point of the bill to the end of the tail. The naked skin on the bill is very large, and is covered with red fleshy excrescences; the eyes are surrounded with a broad circle of naked red skin, and the wings reach nearly to the extremity of the tail. The carrier pigeons are trained at an early age by being at first taken a few miles from home and let loose. The distance is gradually increased until the birds acquire great facility in carrying messages. An actual postal system, in which pigeons were the messengers, was established by the Sultan Noureddin Mahmoud, who died in 1174. This pigeon mail lasted for over eighty-four years, or until 1258, when it was destroyed by the Moguls, who captured Bagdad.

HOW TO MAKE HOME ATTRACTIVE.

It is practicable to make home so delightful that children shall have no disposition to wander from it or prefer any other place; it is possible to make it so attractive that it shall not only firmly hold its own loved ones, but shall draw others into its cheerful circle. Let the house, all day long, be the scene of pleasant words, kind and affectionate acts; let the table be the happy meeting place of a merry group, and not a dull board where a silent, if not sullen, company of animals come to feed; let the meal be the time when a cheerful laugh is heard and good things are said; let the sitting room, at evening, be the place where a smiling company settle themselves to books or games till the round of good night kisses are in order; let there be some music in the household, music not kept like silk and satin to show to company, but music in which the father and mother and sister and brother join; let the young companion be well welcomed and made for the time a part of the group, so that daughters shall not deem it necessary to seek the obscurity of back parlors with intimate friends, or to drive father and mother to distant apartments; in a word, let the home be surrounded by an air of cozy and cheerful good-will; then children need not be exhorted to love it; you will not be able to tempt them away from it.

The ties which bind a child to home are created not so much out of great as from little things; some of them I have hinted at, and many more will suggest themselves to a wise parent. There should be a good many holidays in the home. I believe in anniversaries, and I love, by observing them, to connect time with events, and so give to both a deeper interest. The birth-days of a family should be always noticed, and, in some way, celebrated. The busy preparation of the whole household to make some present to father or mother or sister or brother on a birth-day or holiday; the many plannings, the workings in by-corners and at odd times; the bundling of work out of sight as the step of the favored one is heard; the careful stowing of gifts away until the appointed time; and then, when the looked for day has come, the presentations, the confused and merry voices, the filled eye, the choked voice, the heart too full to speak in words, memory touched as with an angel's hand, love that can only be looked its thanks—all these! who can tell their sweet and mighty power? A home familiar to such scenes, will it, can it be one that children shall not love? No, no, from it when the inexorable time comes to go away, daughters shall pass with sobs of sorrow, and sons with pressed lips and swimming eyes, and while mother lives, it will be a home still, home, though years have gone and other homes have claimed them.—Aikman's Life at Home.

Our friend of the New Braunfels Zeitung has received "an appeal for peace," signed by eleven Yankee officers of a Peace Society, which and whom he handles without gloves. In reply to the advice of the Peace Society to Prussia, he says France had the offer of an armistic recently, but the Radicals of Paris rejected it for fear that they might lose their usurped official positions. They reminded him, he says, of the Radicals of this country, who sometimes refuse to let the people have an election for similar reason. Finally, after giving these Yankee Peace men the editorial rod until it is worn out on them, he applies the strap, as follows:

"Und letzlich muchten wir die barmherzigen Herrn aus dem Yankeelande doch daran erindern, wie Sheridan in dem Shenandoahthale gewirtschaftet, wie er die Borrathe und Lebensmettein, und selbst die Borrathe und Lebensmettein, und selbst die Muchlen zerstert hat, damit kein, Getreide gemahlen werden konnte, und wie unsere Gefangenen des Suedens behandelt worden sind. Wo war damals das mitleid dieser Herrn und ihre Crocodils thranen?"

That's exactly what we should like to know.

An Illinois woman committed suicide by hanging herself to an apple tree. At the funeral a neighbor, noticing the sad appearance of the husband consoled him by saying he had met with a terrible loss. "Yes," says the husband, heaving a sigh, "she must have kicked like thunder to

MISCELLANEOUS.

BRONCHIAL SYRUP.
THIS BRONCHIAL SYRUP is a safe and certain remedy for SCROFULA in many of its varying forms. Its effects are speedy and permanent. It cures rapidly Coughs, Colds, Croups, Bronchitis, Asthma, Consumption in its early stages, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, General Debility, &c.
This preparation is perfectly harmless never producing any unpleasant symptoms or the slightest injury to the tone of the most delicate stomach. Its results are Tonic and invigorating, giving a good and healthy appetite. It is compounded of fresh and unadulterated materials which, from their combination, exercise an alterative influence over the entire system. This Medicine is alike efficacious upon the air passages, curing Coughs, Colds, Croup, Asthma and Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and also upon the Alimentary Canal, stimulating and strengthening its action, and driving out that Hydra-headed monster, Dyspepsia.
It has been tested by large numbers of persons, and has invariably given relief and satisfaction. It is also prescribed by many prominent physicians in this State.
Among those who have tested it and testified to its efficacy, we may mention Rev. J. H. Dalby, M. G. Waddell, Esq., Rev. J. B. Bobbitt, Rev. Holden, Rev. W. H. Wills, Rev. T. M. Jones, A. M. Hawkins, M. D., Rev. C. B. Riddick, Bishop D. S. Doggett, Bishop G. F. Pearce, Ex-Gov. A. Brown, Rev. R. B. Sutton, Hon A. W. Venable, Bishop Davis of S. C., Rev. N. F. MR. MANNING SEATED.

Our telegrams of this morning announce the fact that Mr. Manning was admitted to his seat upon taking the old oath.—This is highly gratifying to his friends, and his party. Mr. Manning will make his District and State a faithful representative.

IMPEACHMENT.

The Standard seems really impatient at the delay of the Legislature in preferring articles of impeachment against the Governor.

Public sentiment demanded that the Governor should have been impeached the first week of the session; for if half that has been said of him by members to their constituents in the last canvass be true, he ought to have been shorn of his authority at the earliest practicable moment.

He has been guilty of high crimes and misdemeanors enough to insure his conviction, without taking into the account his military outrages against the people of the State. His appointment of Littlefield to the Presidency of the W. N.C. Railroad, after his corruptions were known and he had been presented for indictment by the grand jury of Wake, was one of his smallest crimes. His sending troops to Moore county and turning out the Sheriff who was elected by the people and putting into the office one who was not elected was an impeachable crime. Rescuing a prisoner from the hands of the Marshal of the Supreme Court, when on his way to put him in jail by order of the Court, was a resistance to law for which he ought to be impeached. The Court would have put any other citizen in jail who had thus contemned its authority and resisted its orders.

The constitution makes it obligatory on the Governor to give the General Assembly information in regard to public affairs from time to time, yet he has failed, for two sessions of that body, in his official annual messages, or by special message, to give them any information of Littlefield's frauds and robberies as President of a State work in which millions of State funds were invested.

We repeat, that the Legislature might overlook all his military crimes and outrages and yet find sufficient grounds in his other acts, for impeachment and conviction. But when we add to the account the bare fact that he denied the right of the writ of habeas corpus, not only to one, but to scores of citizens of the State, it is like "piling Pelion upon Ossa;" it makes the propriety, necessity and justice so plain as to render argument on the subject a farce.

PRESIDENT GRANT ON HOLDEN.

President Grant is quite severe, in his message, on our Governor. He regrets "that the full exercise of the elective franchise has, by violence and intimidation, been denied to certain citizens in the several States in the several places lately in rebellion, and thereby reversing the verdict of the people."

The Governor "denied to certain citizens" of Caswell and Alamance, "by violence and intimidation," through the agency of State troops, Kirk and Bergen, "the privilege of the elective franchise." The good people of North Carolina regretted it, and it is time the President had begun to do so, after having aided the Governor in his "violence and intimidation."

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

This document was read in Congress on Monday. It amounts to but little, so far as the South is concerned. Indeed, it is as weak as Mr. Grant was expected to make it. It failed to mention anything about a general amnesty bill. We are not surpised at this. That was a feature of statesmanship which the President could not be expected to appreciate. His assertion that a full exercise of the elective franchise has been denied to people in States lately in rebellion, by violence and intimidation, is, not to put too fine a point on the matter, simply, if not knowingly false; except in those sections where he has conspired with certain of his Radical allies, such as Holden of this State, Smith of Alabama, Bullock of Georgia, and others, to carry the elections by the bayonet. Our synopsis of Tuesday is all we will publish of it, for the more we have to read, the more tiresome it becomes.

VOTING NEGRO WOMEN.

Speaking to a gentleman, a day or two ago, about the negro woman, Lucy Taylor, who, dressed in men's clothes, attempted to vote in Granville in the last election, he remembered and mentioned the fact that Major Smith declared, soon after the last Presidential election, that "we" (the Rads) voted two hundred negro women in Johnston." The manner of [illegible] to clothe them in old [illegible], and [illegible] them to the Regis[illegible] them in some fictitious [illegible] from voting them. The Major

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE AND GOV. VANCE.

In the New York Tribune of the 2d inst., is an editorial notice of the election of Gov. Vance to the United States Senate from this State, containing erroneous and colored statements, which do both Gov. Vance and the people of North Carolina injustice. This arises from two causes: first, the false reports going to the North in regard to the sentiments, feeling, and actions of the Southern people, which might be rectified in Mr. Greeley's mind if he would lend an ear for a moment to the other side; and, secondly, from a deep-seated prejudice, from which, on many occasions, it seems impossible for Mr. Greeley to free himself—they are innate and a part of his nature. We will not say that he would do the Southern people, or Gov. Vance, or any other individual, an intentional wrong, but, from the two causes just named, he frequently does, and the article alluded to is a case in point.

In speaking of Gov. Vance's expectation of having his disabilities removed, the Tribune says:

"Mr. Vance goes before his judges in an attitude of defiance to the laws they have made; avowing his active participation in a flagitious enterprise to destroy this Government; making a boast of this, and assuming that his election is due to it. He claims that he is sent to the Senate as an expression by his fellow-citizens of their admiration and approval of his unlawful act. He demands his seat on the ground that the recent elections have shown a growth of Democratic and a decline of Republican influence. He makes no profession of allegiance to the nation in whose chief council he aspires to sit. He expects that a legal sentence of exclusion which rests upon him shall be removed by the men who imposed it. He insists upon justification without repentance or faith."

It would be difficult to crowd more misstatements of facts, and mistatements that do more injustice to Gov. Vance and the people of North Carolina, in the same number of printed lines than is contained in those we have here quoted.

Gov. Vance does not "go before his judges in an attitude of defiance to the laws they have made." No word or act of his since the cessation of hostilities and proclamation of peace, can be tortured or twisted into a defiance of the laws either State or national, but on the contrary, he has most assiduously observed all the laws, whether he approved them or not; and, surely, Mr. Greeley does not expect Gov. Vance or any other man to surrender his freedom of thought and judgment, and throw up his hat in laudation of all the acts of reconstruction, whether he considers them wise and good or not. It is enough that he should honestly obey these measures while in force, and to favor a change when it can be legally and properly effected. We see no defiance in this.

Nor is it true that Gov. Vance "makes his boast" that his election is owing to his "participation in the flagitious enterprise to destroy this Government." No man who knows him can say he has ever made any such boast. He was true to his State and her people in all their difficulties and dangers; never turned his back upon them to escape the common fate of a common enterprise, nor oppressed them for his own aggrandizement, hence they have confidence in him and delight to honor him.

The Legislature does not send Governor Vance to the Senate "as an expression of their admiration and approval of his unlawful acts." They send him as a man of ability and integrity, true to himself, true to the people of the State and true to his pledges to the Union. They send him, in the place of Abbott, as a satire of the State, identified with them in feeling and interest, and familiar with their wants, their feelings, their sufferings and the injustice that has been done them by lying interested parties who can only stand by their fall, and whose good can only inure from their evil and oppression.

But we cannot specially notice all the misstatements of this short extract from the Tribune. It is enough to say, that all who know Governor Vance, can testify to the injustice the extract does him; and all who know anything of public sentiment in North Carolina, know that great injustice is done in it to the people of the State. If great "loyalty" to the Radical party in North Carolina—an endorsation of Gov. Holden and his administration—the approval of the military oppressions that have been practiced on our people—be the tests of qualifications for a United States Senator from North Carolina, Gov. Vance does not possess them; nor could he represent her true people if he did. As to his political disabilities, imposed by the reconstruction acts, he labors under them in the same degree that thousands of others have done who have had theirs removed, and hopes and expects to have his removed as theirs have been. If partisan feeling, partisan malice, or misrepresentation shall operate to prevent this, it will be his and our misfortune. If the majority in Congress intend to exact humiliating conditions as a prerequisite to the removal of disabilities, and to seat no Senator or Representative without a compliance with these conditions, why, let them send to the State and select such men for the positions as will suit them, as has been virtually done heretofore under the military elections that have been held in many of the Southern States; at least in elections that have been held under the shadow of the bayonet.

But the Tribune, notwithstanding the necessity which seems to rest on it to throw off its bile occasionally, yet takes, on reflection, a common sense view of the matter and advises that "by-gones be by-gones," and that Congress should remove Gov. Vance's disabilities and admit him to his seat. He prays his friends to consider if it be not time to make the proffer of amnesty general.

Legislature of North Carolina.

SENATE.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 7, 1870.

The Senate met at 10 o'clock.

Prayer by Rev. Mr. Branson.

A number of reports from Committees were presented.

BILLS.

Mr. Robbins, of Rowan: A bill to prevent parties in civil actions from being witnesses in their own behalf; referred.

Mr. Whitesides: A bill to repeal section 418, chapter 9, title 13, of the Code of Civil Procedure; referred.

Mr. Graham: A bill to allow the Commissioners of Orange County to levy a special tax; referred.

RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Olds: A resolution instructing the Public Treasurer to pay M. A. Bledsoe a certain claim for supplies furnished the Lunatic Asylum, in bellum. Lies over.

Mr. Cowles: A resolution in favor of soldiers of the war of 1812. Adopted.

Mr. Gilmer: A resolution instructing the Finance Committee to examine and inquire into the expediency of reporting a bill to sell the interest of the State in incorporated companies, and for the payment of the proceeds in equitable settlement with the creditors of the State. Adopted.

Mr. Jones: A resolution in regard to the political disabilities of Hon. Z. B. Vance, as follows:

"Be it resolved by the General Assembly of North Carolina, That the Senators and Representatives of North Carolina, in the Congress of the United States, are requested to employ their influence to have the political disabilities of Z. B. Vance, U. S. Senator elect, removed.

That the Secretary of State is directed to forward a copy of this resolution to each of the Senators and Representatives of North Carolina in the Congress of the United States." Adopted.

Those voting in the affirmative were:

Messrs. Adams, Albright, Allen, Battle, Brogden, Cook, Council, Cowles, Crowell, Currie, Dargan, Fleming, Flythe, Gilmer, Graham, Hawkins, Jones, King, Latham, Ledbetter, Lehman, Linney, Love, Mauney, McClammy, McCotter, Merrimon, Moore, Morehead, Murphy, Norment, Olds, Robbins, of Davidson, Robbins, of Rowan, Skinner, Speed, Troy, Waddell, Warren, Whitesides and Worth—41.

Mr. Love, from a special Committee, reported a bill regulating salaries and fees; ordered to be printed.

SPECIAL ORDER.

Bill to repeal the charter of the extension of the Dan River Coalfields Railroad was read a second time.

Mr. Jones objected to a repeal of a charter allowing a corporation to extend a Railroad with its own means. The bill was presented in the interest of the N. C. Railroad. It were better that this Road had never been built, if it is to be always a bar to the development of other internal improvements. Wise statesmanship and the interests of the State dictated that we invite capitalists to build Railroads and develop our resources, instead of fostering and protecting a mere $3,000,000 of stock in the N. C. Road at the expense of other material interests.

Mr. Smith said he was not surprised at the speech of the gentleman. He had appealed to the Republican members, the very party that, it is said, had led the State into its $40,000,000 of debt and ruin, to support him. I am willing that the original charter shall stand, that the Coalfields may be developed, but we are opposed to running a Railroad parallel with the N. C. Road, and allowing Virginia and South Carolina to gobble up our Bonds. The North Carolina Road has asked no special favors, has been prosperous and merely asks this measure as a protection against imposition. All these propositions to build Railroads for local convenience are merely disguised plans to make short lines through the State, thereby in effect, killing the N. C. Railroad. I hope the bill will be passed.

Mr. Olds said that although holding his previously expressed opinions as to the good policy of a repeal of this Charter, constitutional restrictions would oblige the Legislature to upset the vested rights of the corporation and refuse now to pass a repealing act. Mr. Olds moved to postpone until the 3rd Monday in April.

Mr. Graham moved to postpone indefinitely, in order to render the question debatable.

Mr. Graham advocated the passage of the bill and replied at length to the argument of the Senator from Mecklenburg. The State having an interest in the North Carolina Railroad it should be protected by legislation. If it was a private corporation the case would be different. This charter was merely held over the North Carolina Road, to enforce a lease to the Richmond & Danville Road. I will advocate any measure that will bring about competition and reduce exhorbitant freight rates, but could not support measures calculated to destroy a State work.

Mr. Linney opposed the bill; first, on constitutional grounds, and again, because he considered the increased railroad facilities beneficial to individuals and to the State.

After a protracted debate between Messrs. Gilmer, McClammy, Robbins and Smith in favor of the bill, and Messrs. Jones, Cowles, Linney, Merrimon, Fleming, Worth and Cook against.

Mr. Graham called the previous question; carried.

Mr. Jones demanded the yeas and nays.

The bill then failed to pass its second reading, yeas 23, nays 23, the President giving the deciding vote in the negative.

Mr. Hawkins asked leave to record his vote in the affirmative on the resolution asking the relief of the political disabilities of Gov. Vance, and said that he was in favor of the same course to all our citizens similarly situated.

On motion, the Senate then adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 7, 1870.

House called to order at the usual hour.

Journal of yesterday read and approved.

Mr. Broadfoot, from the Committee on Corporations, reported favorably on the bill concerning the town of Lumberton.—The bill was placed on the calendar.

Mr. McNeill, from the Committee on Propositions and Grievances, reported on several resolutions, which were placed on the calendar.

Mr. Sparrow, from the Judiciary Committee, reported on several bills, all of which were appropriately disposed of.

Mr. Crawford from the Committee on Engrossed Bills, reported several bills as correctly engrossed.

By Mr. Hargrove: A resolution in favor of the Sheriff of Granville; referred.

By Mr. Darden: A resolution relating to per diem and mileage; placed on calendar.

By Dudley, col.: A resolution concerning recess; placed on calender.

By Mr. Brooks: A bill to authorize the Commissioners of Brunswick to issue bonds; referred.

By Mr. Waring: A bill in favor of the Sheriff of Mecklenburg; referred.

By Mr. Houston: A bill to amend section 8 of an act in relation to punishment, laws of 1868-'69; referred.

By Sykes, col.: A bill in favor of G. H. Mitchell; referred.

On motion of Mr. Strudwick, the rules were suspended and his resolution instructing the Committee on Privileges and Elections to inquire into the legality of the election of A. W. Fisher, the member from Bladen.

Mr. Fisher thought the Judiciary was

Mr. Strudwick had no objection to such reference if the gentleman insisted upon it, though he thought the Committee, mentioned in the resolution was the proper one.

After some discussion upon the question of reference, the resolution was adopted and the matter went to the Committee on Privileges and Elections.

CALENDAR.

Bill to allow enterers of vacant lands further time to obtain grants, was taken up and passed its third reading.

Bill to amend the act incorporating the town of Washington, was taken up.

After the bill had been read, Mr. Sparrow called the previous question, saying that the reason he did so was, that the bill had been most thoroughly discussed and all sorts of amendments offered, and he now wished to save time.

The yeas and nays were called and the call for the previous question was sustained by a vote of yeas 62, nays 35. The bill then passed its third reading by a vote of yeas 62, nays 35.

On motion of Mr. Jones, of Northampton, the rules were suspended and the resolution in favor of the Sheriffs of Northampton and Wilkes, was taken up and passed its several readings.

On motion of Mr. Justice, the rules were suspended and bill to repeal section 5, chapter 86, laws 1856-'57, was taken up and passed its third reading.

By Mr. Settle: A bill to supply a temporary deficiency in the Treasury, (Borrows $180,000 from the North Carolina Railroad Company, to meet the present wants of the State government.)

On motion of Mr. Settle, the rules were suspended and the bill passed its several readings.

On motion of Mr. Anderson, the rules were suspended and the bill in favor of John Patterson, late Sheriff of Clay, was taken up and passed its several readings.

CALENDAR (CONTINUED.)

Bill to amend the act relative to the Western Turnpike Road, was taken up and passed its several readings.

Mr. Powell, from the Committee on Enrolment, reported several bills as being correctly enrolled.

On motion of Mr. Houston, the rules were suspended and the resolution having 840 copies of the Treasurer's Report printed, was taken up.

Pending any definite action, the matter was postponed for 10 minutes.

Mr. McNeill presented a memorial from B. T. Pearson, of Wayne, in reference to the contested election between himself and E. G. Copeland, the sitting member of the House from that county. The memorial was read and referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections.

Bill to authorize the Commissioners of Lenoir to levy a special tax, was taken up and referred to the Committee on Propositions and Grievances.

The discussion on printing the Treasurer's Report, was resumed.

After a good deal debate, a substitute was adopted instructing the Joint Committee on Printing, to have 3 copies printed for each member of the two Houses, including the 120 copies already ordered.

Bill to require Sheriffs of the State to pay to the Treasurers of their respective counties the capitation and all other taxes imposed for the purposes of public education, was taken up and referred to the Finance Committee.

On motion of Mr. Rankin, the rules were suspended and the Senate resolution in regard to per diem and mileage was taken up and adopted.

On motion of Mr. Sparrow, the rules were suspended and the resolution in favor of G. B. McCotter, Tax Collector of Pitt, was taken up and passed its several readings.

Adjourned.

NOTE.—The Reporter was in error yesterday in announcing Mr. Waring as having been added to the Judiciary Committee. Mr. W. was a member of the Committee from the first.

NORTH CAROLINA ANNUAL CONFERENCE METHODIST PROTESTANT CHURCH—FOURTH DAY.

The morning session was opened with religious exercises conducted by Rev. [illegible] J. Laughlin. We notice this feature in the daily sessions, and feel that the example should be followed, and that we should enter upon no great or important undertaking without first invoking the blessings of the God of the Universe.

The Conference seems to manifest considerable interest in the Yadkin Colli[illegible] question. On motion Rev. Barring[illegible] the agent for that interest, was, by resolution adopted this morning, required to report through the church organ.

R. R. Prather, C. F. Harris, and Jos[illegible] Causey, ministers; John L. Ogburn, W[illegible] Coe, and J. P. Speight, laymen, were elected standing district committee, whose duty as laid down is, "in the event of death, resignation or suspension of the President, to appoint a President pro tem to serve until the sitting of the next Annual Conference." This is probably a wise provision.

Salem Church, on Orange circuit, was selected as the place for holding the next session of the Conference.

Rev. R. O. Burton, Fraternal Messenger, appointed to bear the Christian salutations of the North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, was introduced to the Conference by Rev. John Paris. The reverend gentleman expressed his gratification in meeting with members of the same household of faith engaged in one common cause, and assured the Conference that their prosperity would be a cause of rejoicing, not only personally, but on the part of the body he represented. The response of the Chairman was pertinent to the occasion and happily expressed.

A brief notice of the sermon to-day so happily conceived and delivered, will afford your correspondent great pleasure. Though far from being an adept in such matters, I may be pardoned for expressing my gratification at the able sermons of yesterday and to-day. Rev. R. H. Wills, the incumbent of the pulpit, is from Albemarle Circuit. The subject selected, is of record in the 10th chapter, first Epistle of Paul to the Corinthians, 19th and 20th vs. A brief allusion was made to the human Temple, its services &c., the Difference in the assisting sanctorum of the Church of the living God as his body—and to the literal interpretation of the text, the body of the christian the temple of the Holy Ghost, to which it may repair and offer up his sacrifices of prayer and praise.

2. That we are not our own, having been bought with a price. Gold and silver are impotent—all that the human mind can conceive, if massed, would be total insufficiency in purchasing pardon for one sin, but the blood of Christ—the priceless treasure has been accepted as a ransom for all men, may avail themselves of the great privileges secured by the death of Christ once offered for the sins of the whole world.

The exhortation "therefore glorify God in your body and in your spirit which are God's" permitted the speaker to dwell on the internals and externals of religion.—Mere forms of worship he deemed as falling short of the scriptural requirement.

V. B. Batchelor, et. al. Plaintiff, versus the heirs of William Batchelor, defendants.

PETITION TO SELL LAND FOR PARTITION.

It appearing to the Court from the affidavit of V. B. Batchelor, one of the above Plaintiffs, that William Batchelor, one of the heirs at law of John Batchelor, died in the State of Arkansas, leaving heirs whose names he is unable to learn, but who now reside out of the limits of this State, to-wit, in the county of Chicot, in the State of Arkansas. It is therefore ordered that publication be made in the SENTINEL, a newspaper published at Raleigh, N. C., for six successive weeks, notifying said defendants that this petition has been filed, and that they are required to appear at the office of the Clerk of said Court at the Court House in the town of Nashville, within twenty days after the time of publication prescribed in this order, and answer the petition; and so take notice that if they fail to appear and answer within that time the petition will be taken as confessed, and heard accordingly.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1870.

JOHN N. RAMSAY, as Business Clerk, is authorized to make contracts and give receipts, &c., &c.

A CORRECTION.—Our reporter, in alluding to the Judiciary Committee, says Mr. Waring's name was "added" to the committee. This was an error. Mr. Waring was on the committee as originally organized.

ERROR.—In the notice of the burning of a barn in Chatham yesterday, it is printed as belonging to a Mr. Morriss. It should be James H. Mimms.

GRAND LODGE.—An election of officers of this body for the ensuing year, took place Tuesday night, and resulted as follows: Grand Master, C. C. Clark, of New Berne; S. W., John Nichols, Raleigh; J. W., Mr. Boudree, Wilson; Grand Secretary, D. W. Bain, Raleigh; G. Treasurer, J. H. Anderson, Raleigh.

The regular installation was appointed for yesterday morning, but a telegram from Mr. Clark stated that he could not be present before this evening. The installation will therefore take place tonight; after which time the other officers will be appointed.

An unusually large number of delegates are in attendance from all portions of the State, and the session has been a most pleasant and harmonious one.

OUR ENLARGEMENT enables us to give more, and a greater variety, of reading matter. Our friends throughout the State will please send us information of any events of public interest, which may occur in their respective localities. Communications must be written on one side of the page only, and just as short as possible. We have no space for a surplussage of sentences, when a few words, properly used, can answer every purpose.

PERSONS sending us articles for publication must invariably furnish names. We do not ask them for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith on the part of writers.

SPECIAL ELECTIONS.—Gov. Holden has issued proclamations ordering special elections to be held on the 24th inst., in the Counties of Alamance, Caswell, and Nash. Senator and Representative are to be elected in Caswell, and Representatives in the counties of Alamance and Nash respectively. Let the conservative people of the several counties bestir themselves, and elect good men and true. Leave no stone unturned to secure a full and complete triumph.

WE DIRECT attention to the advertisement of the American Cyclopædia. This is a most important work, and should be owned by every intelligent family. Many of the most prominent men in the South speak in the highest terms of this work, and, therefore, we have no hesitation in commending it to the public.

Mr. Cornish, the Agent, is stopping at the Yarborough House, where he can be seen. It is sold by subscription. Call on Mr. C. and get a copy.

CORRECTION.—In our allusion to the recent vote in Halifax county, we inadvertently stated that "Goodwin (radical) got in by six or seven hundred majority in a county that has given over two hundred Radical majority." We should have said over two thousand majority. A reduction of a two-thousand to a six-hundred majority speaks well for the exertions of the good people of Halifax, and of their gallant candidate, Col. Walter Clark.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, published by Munn & Co., 37 Park Row, New-York, is one of the oldest and best scientific journals ever published. It enters on its 26th year in January, is published weekly at $3 per annum, or to clubs of 10 for $25.

This journal treats of inventions, novelties in mechanics, manufactures, chemistry, photography, architecture, agriculture, engineering, science and art, and gives practical suggestions in every industrial pursuit of life, and also all necessary information in regard to patent office affairs and the steps to be taken to procure patents on new inventions. There is no publication in the country that we can more heartily recommend, or one that will better repay the subscriber for the money it costs him.

"We learn from the Fayetteville Eagle that a negro woman was killed last Friday evening named Lucy McKimmon, by Arch'd McMillan, colored, accidentally, some 8 miles South of that town."

We are at a loss to know whether McMillan was "colored accidentally," or was some 8 miles south of the town "accidentally."

A TERRIBLE Railroad accident occurred to the down-freight train on the W. & W. Railroad, near Dudley, Monday morning. Capt. Bass has probably lost his life, and the Section Master, Mr. Denney, one of his legs besides sustaining other injuries. Two other parties were also seriously injured. The conductor's car broke down in some place, and before the train could be stopped was a complete wreck. So we learn from the Messenger.

The statistical report of the N. C. Conference of the M. E. Church, submitted at its session last week, shows collections for missionary purposes $1,111.95. There are in the bounds of the Conference 212 Local Preachers, 45,125 white communicants and 1,379 colored communicants.

A SECOND BAPTIST CHURCH was organ-

THE CHIEF DETECTIVE.

Mr. Fisher, the member from Bladen, is chief, we believe, of the Governor's detective force, and Adjutant General of the State. He is a citizen of Raleigh, and is so regarded by the intelligent people of Bladen. His eligibility to his seat from Bladen is questioned. On the motion of Mr. Strudwick to refer the question to the Committee on privileges and elections, the Cheif Detective modestly moved to have it referred to the Judiciary Committee.

We think it can be easily proven that the member from Bladen has hung up his carpet bag in a Boarding-house of this city for the last three years, and that he has not been in Bladen during the time except on a visit, when he went down to canvass for the seat he now wrongfully occupies.

THE TWO LUCIES.—Woman suffrage and woman manhood—or to express it in an old homely phrase—woman's right to wear the breeches—is a question which will force itself upon the consideration of creation, despite their arrogance and presumption.

The theory of Lucy Stone was attempted to be put into practical operation by another Lucy—Lucy Tayler, a colored damsel of Granville County, at the late Congressional election. She dressed herself in men's clothes, presented herself at Royster's Store, ballot in hand and offered to vote. He was so closely questioned by the poll holders that he retired, but soon returned and demanded the privilege of voting. On being again questioned he declared that she was the father of two children. She called himself John Richardson Taylor. Col. Taylor, the former owner of Lucy, was called and identified him as her.

Our Lucy, though she did not vote, is two babies and a pair of breeches ahead of Lucy Stone.

REV. A. B. EARLE AND THE REVIVAL IN RALEIGH.—We have never seen such a revival of religion as is now in progress in the Baptist Church in this city. Every available spot of the largest audience room in town is occupied—pews, aisles, galleries, all are full, and for several nights the people have crowded around the preacher till the pulpit-platform and steps held a hundred persons.

Tuesday night fully two hundred persons rose and asked christians to pray for them, while many joyfully acknowledged their new found hope in the Savior. Old breaches between christians are being healed, and there is every indication of a genuine work of grace in the meeting.

Now why is it that the preaching of Mr. Earle is always attended with such results? He is no more eloquent or learned or gifted in voice and manners than other men. What then is the secret of his power? If we were to designate any one element of his character as lying at the basis of his power, we should say it, was his faith. He seems to be a profoundly pious man, with great singleness of purpose, but we have known men as godly who did not have his strength—it it his tremendous faith that clothes him with such remarkable power. He said the other morning that "if God were to tell him to go to the city cemetery and sing Old Hundred and he would raise the dead, he would go round to the people of Raleigh and tell them to prepare to receive their dead, for they were coming out of their graves." He seems to be able to take God at His word, and preaches the Gospel blessing, that it is the power of God unto salvation, and it proves the power of God to those that hear. But with this capital feature are united several other attributes which give extraordinary effectiveness to his ministry. He has a clear and vigorous intellect—some of his sermons are of extraordinary power, and his views of scripture always original and striking. We have never heard a speaker of more distinctness. He seems able to say in a few good, strong words just what he wants to say, and his language often possesses a quaintness and piquancy, which make his discourses interesting, and yet are perfectly natural.

Indeed, the simplicity of the man is charming. He gives many anecdotes and illustrations from his own experience, but there seems to be no vanity or conceit about him—it is all done with the simplicity of a little child, and the humility of a true christian.

His voice is strong and clear—a little hard and unmusical by long use, but still a good voice, though wanting in the power of modulation. He speaks in an elevated key, but always very much in a conversational style. He is terribly in earnest. He never weeps—there are no tears in his voice—he never becomes impassioned, and yet you feel as you listen that there is a fire in the man—a smouldering volcano is beneath the surface of that calm face.

Another distinguishing characteristic of the man is his knowledge of human nature, and this gives him entire control over vast assemblies. He never has any disorder in his meetings and he seems to possess the faculty of making people do just as he pleases. If he asks persons to speak, or pray in public they always do it. Even timid females will rise upat his bidding and speak before hundreds, of their love for Jesus, or their desire for the conversion of some dear friend.

Mr. Earle is a neatly-dressed fine looking man of 38 years of age—very genial and pleasant in his manners, and of iron frame. He is accustomed to preach from sixty to seventy times a month for six months together, and yet he has never broken down but once.

He is indeed a wonderful man and we earnestly hope that his visit to Raleigh may result in a great blessing to our people.

"Judge Reed sustains Gov. Holden."—Wil. Post.

Gov. Holden and Marshal Carrow have been sustaining Kirk without bond, and now the rascal has fled.

It is no doubt a comfort to the Govern-

THE SPECIAL ELECTIONS.

The Legislature having declared the elections in Caswell, for the Senate and House of Representatives, and in Alamance for the House of Representatives, void on account of the military occupation of those counties at the time of the regular election; and the Governor having issued his proclamation ordering special elections on the 24th inst., we call on our friends in those counties to be up and doing, and prepare to arouse their entire strength for the occasion.

We understand that White, who was returned from Alamance, is again a candidate. Let the people of that county remember that every vote given for him is an endorsement of Holden's outrage on them and their neighbors, by Kirk and his cut-throats, last summer.

The Democrats and Conservatives of that county will nominate their candidate next Tuesday. When this is done let every man feel as if his election rested on him alone and work to make it secure.

We have not heard what has been done in Caswell, but we hope our friends there will stir themselves and elect good men and true, remembering what they passed through last summer.

The New York Ledger, the editor of which, although not a politician, is on the most intimate horse relations with President Grant, says apropos of the nomination of Morton as Minister to England:

It is conjectured that the appointment of Governor Morton is a measure of marked significance. It is supposed to mean that a new policy is to be adopted with reference to the Alabama claims, and that England is now to be called upon, in no uncertain terms, to settle. If England pays up, very well. If she refuses to pay, we may have war. In either event the Administration of General Grant will be strengthened, and his re-election rendered less uncertain. If we should be in the midst of a war when the election of President takes place, it would render the defeat of General Grant almost out of the question. General Grant must understand this perfectly well; for he has immediately before him the example of Mr. Lincoln, who was re-elected by the war. If, on the other hand, England should succumb before an imperious demand for the immediate settlement of the Alabama claims, a new and needed prestige might be given by such an achievement to General Grant's Administration. Governor Morton is a bold, original, positive man. There is no element like milk-and-water in his composition. We apprehend that his appointment means something. President Grant has bided his time. He must see that the Congressional elections this fall are quite liable to result in a considerable diminution of the Republican strength in the House of Representatives.

General Butler, in his several speeches urging war with Great Britain, had the candor to admit that such a course was absolutely necessary to maintain the supremacy of the Radical party in this country. Now we have the assurance from another of President Grant's confidential friends. In other words, the declaration is boldly, and, semi-officially made, that this country is to be plunged into an expensive and a terrible war,—not to resent an offered insult—not in vindication of her rights—but wholly and solely for the purpose of securing the re-election of President Grant. President Grant feels that he, as chief of the present administration, is an egregious failure, and that the people of the country are determined upon ridding themselves of him. In order that he may have bayonets enough to enforce his election, he must plunge the people into war, get up his armies and then use them as the exigencies of the occasion may demand—for his own personal promotion.

But, the country is sneering at the President's and General Butler's war plans—let us hope they will continue to treat the whole—the plan and its authors—with the contempt they deserve.

The Asheville Pioneer says Major Marcus Erwin made a strong appeal to the convention which assembled at that place last Saturday to "devise the most expeditious means of recovering the bonds stolen from the Western N. C. R. R. Co., and bring the perpetrators of this colossal fraud to condign punishment."

Why did not Major Marcus Erwin take such steps as these before Littlefield fled the country, instead of editing Littlefield's paper, and doing all he could to perpetuate the party in power which placed the thief in position to steal the "bonds of the Western N. C. R. R. Co.?" We hope the Major may succeed in bringing to punishment "the perpetrators of this colossal fraud," but he should have begun before all the bonds had been stolen. Charges were repeatedly made that the money of the Road was being misplaced and squandered, but the Major, and others who could be mentioned, remained perfectly quiet. However, better late than never.

WE OBSERVE in several of our exchanges, publication is given to the paragraph which appeared in the Standard report of the Senate proceedings, which stated that Mr. Graham, Senator from Orange, had reported a bill to disfranchise foreigners. The publication was a misrepresentation from beginning to end, and, we believe an intentional one. The Standard has never corrected or explained the false report, notwithstanding Mr. Graham called the attention of the Reporter to it. Now will those papers which have published the article alluded to, correct it, in justice, not only to Mr. Graham, but to truth? We shall see.

PARENTS WITH ONLY ONE CHILD.—It is harder to bring up one child well than six. In a large family the children help to bring one another up. It is not merely that the elder ones assist in taking care of the younger, but they all influence one another profitably in other ways; vanity is sometimes laughed into modesty, and arrogance is snubbed into humanity. Each child is kept constantly in mind that others have rights and feelings and preferences as well as himself; he forms the habit of considering those rights, feelings and preferences; and he is thus prepared to "get along," as we say, with those among whom his lot may be cast. Parents with one child have

MEETING IN CATAWBA.

NEWTON, N. C., Dec. 6, 1870.

Editor Sentinel: A large meeting of the citizens of Catawba county was organized in the Court House in Newton, on the 5th inst., by calling A. J. Corpening to the chair, and appointing Col. H. A. Forney and J. A. Garvin, secretaries.

J. Hussey, Esq., explained the object of the meeting to be the appointment of delegates to represent Catawba in a railroad meeting, to be held at the store of Col. D. A. Lowe, in Lincoln county, on the 10th inst.; said delegates to confer with the citizens of Lincoln, Gaston, and Mecklinburg counties, as to the feasibility of building a railroad from some point in Catawba county to Charlotte, either by a direct route, or to some point on the W. C. & R. R. R.; by which railroad communication may be established with Charlotte and the western counties of the State; also to ascertain what aid may be expected from the people along each of the proposed routes. Upon motion, a delegation of forty-five gentlemen were appointed to attend said meeting.

After the appointment of the delegates, the meeting adjourned to be called again at a time to be agreed upon at the meeting at Col. Lowe's, on the 10th inst., to which the citizens of Lincoln, Gaston, Mecklenburg and Caldwell counties, are invited.

MR. EDITOR: I wish to say, through you, to the Legislature now in session, that the eyes of the people of the State are upon them. The people are expecting relief in every particular. They expect and desire the impeachment of Holden and Pearson. They demand that taxes be reduced, laws made better, salaries and fees of every discription reduced,—in a word, the whole machinery of government put upon the plainest and cheapest mode.

The people must be relieved of the burden that is now upon them; and if any member of the General Assembly fails to carry out these suggestions, or to work and vote for such measures looking to these reforms, he will stay at home hereafter. I know the general sentiment of the people, and, sir, your course, and your views as expressed in the SENTINEL, are endorsed by nine tenths of the people of the State.

Yours very truly,
AN OLD CITIZEN.

MR. EDITOR, SIR:—The object of the above enterprise since its commencement, now nearly two years, has been to induce immigration to our State, and to turn the tide from the great West, to our Sunny South, also to call their attention to the superior advantages and inducements we hold out over all other States in the Union. To do this we have made every effort to show our land owners that by selling one half of their large tracts to emigrants, and with money, at a reasonable price and on easy terms to enable them to improve their property, which would have advanced the remainder double what they asked for the whole tract eighteen months ago. Our charges being so reasonable only 2½ per cent. and nothing unless a sale is perfected, that both county and city property, owners can all themselves of this opportunity of offering for sale lands of every kind, without any outlay.

Now being the season of the year when people have leisure to travel, and are now visiting our State in search of homes, we invite all who have lands to dispose of to call on or address us.

TELEGRAPHIC.

Wednesday Evening Dispatches

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—HOUSE.—Manning from North Carolina, was seated after taking the oath.

FOREIGN.

VERSAILLES, Dec. 7.—German officers believe the siege of Paris may extend beyond Christmas, but they hope the French are discouraged by the failure of the recent sorties.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The telegraph lines connecting with Orleans and Tours have been cut by the Prussian cavalry.

Washburne writes from Paris, that according to his information, the French were beaten at all points except one, and that the end of the war is apparently near. The capitulation of Paris may be looked for within three weeks.

TOURS, Dec. 5.—Pallidine telegraphs that his retreat was orderly, losing neither munitions nor prisoners.

A Commission has been appointed to investigate the evacuation of Orleans.

Many are leaving apprehending an attack, but the Government evinces no intention of leaving.

DIJEUZE, Dec. 7.—Prince George Leopold the King of Saxony, that the French have retired behind the Marne and that further offensive operations are impossible.

Wednesday Night Dispatches.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—John H. Surratt has written an interesting letter, confessing a plan for the abduction of Lincoln, but denying that the Confederate Government had any knowledge of the scheme. He did not credit the first report of the assassination which reached him at Elmyra. He was amazed when he heard Booth's name connected with it, as assassination had formed no part of the plan, and was never spoken of.

HOUSE.—Bills were introduced to authorize the Cincinnatti and Southern Railroad Company to build bridges over navigable streams upon plans approved by the Secretary of War, and abolishing the Freedman's Bureau.

A resolution declaring any attempt to possess the Bay of Samana, by an European power, an unfriendly act, and violative of the Monroe doctrine, was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

A resolution declaring that the late elections showed that the people were in favor of a lower tariff, and directing the Committee on Ways and Means to prepare a bill reducing the duty on tea, coffee and sugar to 15 per cent ad valorem, and to construct a general bill for the purposes of revenue only, was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

The revision of the postage laws occupied the balance of the day.

ALABAMA.

MOBILE, Dec. 7.—The election of Mayor, Councilmen and Aldermen, passed off quietly. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed. Business was partially suspended. Martin Horst, an old and respected citizen, was elected by about 1,500 majority, defeating Herrington, the carpet-bag candidate, who was appointed by Smith, the Governor.

MONTGOMERY, Dec. 7.—To-day, in the election for a United States Senator, in the Legislature, Goldthwaite, Democrat, received, on joint ballot, 65 votes; Warner, Rep., 50 and Haralson Rep., 14 votes. Goldthwaite having received 1 majority, was declared duly elected.

Goldthwaite has been a Judge of the Circuit and Supreme Court, and is an able lawyer. The people of Montgomery are greatly rejoiced.

This morning the Circuit Court Judge, Smith Republican, summoned W. H. Smith, who holds the Executive Chamber, to appear before him and show cause for withholding the books, papers, and other State documents from Lindsay, who formally deamanded them.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

CHARLESTON, Dec. 7.—The Senatorial election resulted as follows:

Robertson, Rep. 83; Butler 31; Cardoza, col. 11. Robertson was declared elected.

FOREIGN.

MEXICO, Dec. 7.—The King of Bavaria sent a note to King William, inviting him to assume the title of "Emperor of Germany." The consent of the other States is expected.

TOURS, Dec. 6.—The repulsing of the left wing of the army of the Loire necessitated the evacuation of Orleans by the French.

Gambetta has issued a Proclamation to Prefects of Departments, stating that the situation of the army was good. Heavy reinforcements of artillery are arriving. The forward movement will soon be renewed.

The right wing of the army of the Loire was successful in an engagement with the Prussians yesterday near Montargos.

The Prussian Prefects of all the invaded Departments, have issued a decree that all men between the ages of 18 and 40, are considered prisoners of war and will be shot if they attempt to escape. In spite of this, great numbers continue to reach the French lines, where they enlist.

There are no signs of the Government leaving.

FROM GEORGIA.

AUGUSTA, Dec. 7.—The Democrats carry the City by 800 majority, with a full Council. Troops were stationed near the polls, but did not interfere with the election.

There is great rejoicing, and an illumination will take place to-night.

DISSOLUTION.

THIS SCHOOL which has been for the last two years under the exclusive charge of J. H. Horner, will henceforth be conducted under the joint supervision of the above principals, with competent assistant instructors in every department.

The course of study has been extended, and boys will be thoroughly fitted for advanced classes in College, especial reference being had to the qualifications requisite for admission into the Senior classes in the University of Virginia, of Washington Lee University, the latter of which has again conferred upon the school the honor of a scholarship in that institution.

A regular course of study in Natural Science, Commercial Science and the Modern Languages has been added to the school for those students, who, desiring to acquire only a complete business education may wish to substitute these studies for Latin and Greek.

No pains will be spared to render the instruction in the school efficient, and to furnish to students the most ample facilities for thorough preparation for College or for the acquisition of a good business education; and the principals flatter themselves that their long and successful career as teachers is a sufficient guarantee that the school will be in all respects worthy the public confidence and support.

The Spring Session will open the second Monday in January.

Daily Sentinel.

TO RENOVATE AN EXHAUSTED FARM.

In reply to the important inquiry as to how an exhausted farm can be renovated, the Ploughman makes the following suggestions:

This important object can be accomplished chiefly by grass, by farm-yard manure, and by allowing the land to rest. Many a farm has been impoverished by a long succession of exhausting crops that no longer return the owner enough to pay for their cultivation. Such farms can generally be restored to their original fertility by a correct system of management in a few seasons. It will be found that, as a general rule, they are too wet and that they have been ploughed shallow, the owners skimming over too many acres instead of going deep to cultivate a few acres well, and get the largest return that they are capable of yielding.

In some cases, again, the crops instead of being consumed on the farm itself, to keep it in good heart, have been carried upon adjoining farms or sold to go to still greater distances. The selling of hay or other forage crops is sure to lead to a speedy exhaustion.

The first thing is to find out where the leak has been and put a stop to it. If crops have been sold, make arrangements to consume them on the farm. If the surface has been skimmed over, begin by putting down the plough, and do it gradually, not expecting to accomplish the object all at once.

Now the first practical step in renovating an impoverished soil is to drain the low places, and if need be go into a system of thorough drainage, by cutting ditches over the whole farm. This will lengthen out the growing season. Wet land that is well drained, will not require half the manure to produce large crops as land that is undrained. In most cases thoroughly drained land will yield twice as much grass or any kind of grain, and that, too, without any, or with very little manure, as the same land undrained will with manuring. This is then, the first step towards a complete renovation. All the manure in creation will not produce a large crop on a soil that is water-soaked and in a condition to roll up like putty when ploughed. Such soil wants the air let into it by taking the water out. It is sodden, cold, unproductive. The genial sunshine cannot wake it to life. Drain it, then, and do it as a requisite preliminary in the course of renovation.

The next step will be to pulverize the soil completely, and this after drainage can be done with the plough. Bring up the lower stratum to the air and light. Plough it in the best thorough manner and then cross plough a little deeper. It must be no boy's work, with a half-fed team or a span of broken-winded horses. That will not do. A strong and well-fed team, that will swing along with eight to ten inches of the soil and step off with it as if it meant work, is the only way to plough such land. To skim over the surface is only to make the matter worse.

After thorough drainage and a deep and perfect pulverization of the soil, sow a wide breadth of root crops, especially mangolds and Swedes, and take good care of them, manuring highly and keeping out the weeds. That will give you a large amount of feeding material. Stock as heavy as the farm will bear and strain a peg to feed well, even if you have to buy a little of the neighbors. If the farm has been fed with cows or horned cattle, cover the pastures with sheep for two or three years, and feed them extra with linseed or cotton seed meal while at pasture. At a very little expense you make the pastures carry twice as many sheep as they could carry without a little extra feeding. They will renovate the pastures in two or three years, and your roots will carry them bravely through the winter, and give you a lot of the richest manure that can be made on the farm.

If there is not pasturage enough, raise all the roots you can and buy stock to winter. Many a farmer in this State buys sheep in the fall, feeds high and sells the sheep fat in March or April, making something on the sheep and having an abundance of the best manure for his tobacco crop in the spring. In this way his tobacco, exhausting as it is, is leaving his farm better and better every year, and putting a liberal supply of money into his pocket every year.

Space will not allow us to enter into greater detail, but these are the main points, drainage, deep and thorough culture, high feeding and the home consumption of the products of the farm. Sell the crops on four legs. Economize all waste substances in the farm of manure, and stop all the leaks. A renovated farm and a financial success are sure to follow.

DEATH OF HORSES FROM EATING DAMAGED OATS.—A South Carolina horse breeder, after losing a valuable horse, writes to the Furmer and Artizan that he is certain more horses die in the South from eating damaged oats than from all other causes. As oats are cut rather green, and often with many green weeds among them, it is very difficult to keep them from moulding more or less in the centre. Many animals die from this cause which are supposed to have had blind staggers.

Juries are often imposed upon. They are sometimes required to solve problems of one sort or another that would run a philosopher crazy. For instance, twelve of our peers now hearing a murder case in Michigan have had this conundrum submitted to them for solution: "Suppose a gaseous substance, more or less saturated with hamato-glycerine, reduced to the specific gravity of 1030, placed on a microscope slide with a one-third objective, magnifying 1000 times, the soluble part having been first dissolved in distilled water, and subjected to a stream of oxygen gas bubbled through it, and allowed to soak 40 hours, would or would not the result be a oblong parallelogrammatic crystallization of mammalian corpuscles, and if so, is the original proprietor bipedal, quadrupedal, or pentapedal in his anatomical structure?" The friends of the jury have engaged the nearest lunatic asylum to have accommodations prepared for twelve the day the trial is over.

Tricks.—Folks may say what they please about Grant, but we'll bet on him. Bets are his trumps. He used them in New York elections, and diminished Colfax's vote 35 per cent. He gave the latter a popular majority in Pennsylvania. In North Carolina he changed the Republican majority from 12,136 to 4,500 on the right side. He carried Richmond for the Democrats by two companies of regulars. He altered his majority in Missouri from 15,788 for him to exactly 41,000 against him. He reconstructed Alabama on Democratic lines, with 5,000 ahead [illegible]. Now, after this triumphant vindication of the bayonet as a political weapon, who wouldn't be a Grant man? Who, who?

A general belief is entertained in Havana that important negotiations touching the affairs of Cuba are going on between the United States. The Spaniards are disgusted with things in general, and seem very little about [illegible] that opposition [illegible] the weaker among [illegible] Spaniards.

REPORTS,

Showing the standing and progress of all the Fire and Life Insurance Companies doing business in the United States.

There are many first rate Companies represented in North Carolina by clever, high-toned gentlemen; but it will be conceded by all, we think, that the

OLD ÆTNA LIFE

Has the lead in the State, and it is not to be wondered at. This Company has paid to Widows and Orphans in the last five years over

$177,000.00

In North Carolina,

And for this large sum but a mere pittance was paid by those who wisely provided for their loved ones. The Company being well established and well managed, it has gone steadily forward securing the confidence and patronage of a large number of the American people of all professions and grades.

IT HAS ISSUED NEARLY

$80,000 POLICIES,

AND HAS

$15,000,000.00 Assets,

AND MORE THAN

BENEFIT LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

OF NEW YORK.

Cash Assets over $1,500,000,

ISSUES ALL FORMS OF NON FORFEITABLE, WHOLE LIFE AND ENDOWMENT POLICIES, on the Mutual Cash Plan, declaring dividends annually after the first annual premium paid. Assets exclusively cash, with no portion of its reserve fund in premiums notes, consequently its "reserve" is stronger than that of any company doing business in this State. No "definite surrender values guaranteed" as an inducement to new business, but reference is made to the average amount paid on each surrendered policy, as shown by the New York Insurance Reports, 1869, as evidence of having paid larger surrender values, than has been given under a minimum "Definite Cash Surrender Value." Death losses have not occurred out of several hundred policy holdeys in this State, which fact must establish the better ability of the Company to pay larger dividends than companies having an excessive mortality, the result of a selection of bad risks. "Fictitious Dividends are not declared, but dividends are given from the actual surplus, in accordance with the Company's charter. The attention of the public is invited to the following comparison of cost, demonstrating the advantages over ordinary insurances, of the POLICIES VALUABLE IN LIFE, AS WELL AS AT DEATH!!

THE BROOKLYN LIFE, IS THE ONLY COMPANY IN AMERICA WHICH GUARANTEES

DEFINITE CASH SURRENDER VALUES,

IN CASE A POLICY IS FORFEITED FOR NON-PAYMENT OF PREMIUM.

The BROOKLYN LIFE enjoys the highest reputation for judgment of investment, economy of management, and skill and care in the selection of risks; upon which elements of administration the security of a Life insurance Corporation depends.

The laws of New York compel Companies in that State to calculate the cash value of their Policies, each and every year, and a certain legal standard of reserve and accumulation must be held by the companies to meet all their liabilities.

Insurers in looking around for Companies in which to insure, should carefully seek for this important safeguard. It will be found in the BROOKLYN LIFE.

TWENTY-ONE REASONS FOR PREFERRING THIS COMPANY TO ALL OTHERS.

1. Its Cash assets are upwards of $13,000,000,000 00, and constantly increasing.
2. None of this is made up of Promissory Notes, as in many Companies.
3. Its Cash Income per annum is over $6,500,000 00, and steadily growing larger.
4. None of this is composed of the notes of hand of policy-holders, as is the case in many Companies.
5. It has paid to Widows and Orphans, and other claimants under policies on deceased members, about $4,000,000 00.
6. Such payments are made in Cash, and not partly in Cancelled Notes, as is the case in many Companies.
7. No deductions are made from the face of a Policy, for Premium Notes when it becomes a claim, as is the case in all Note Companies.
8. The sum of $3,500,000 00, and upwards, in cash divided among Policy-Holders, (this included the dividend for the present year,) as profits of the business.
9. All the profits of the business are annually divided among the assured Equitably, instead of being wholly or partially distributed among the Stockholders, as is the case in all "Mixed" and "Proprietary" Companies.
10. Dividends are invariably available, as cash in payment of Premiums.
11. The dividends are made from the start, and not postponed until the lapse of several years, as in many Companies.
12. The Society deals Equitably with its policy-holders.
13. The Equitable has made More progress since its organization than any other Life Company in the World.
14. Its risks have been so carefully selected, and its dealings so equitable, that it has never been obliged to contest the payment of a claim at law.
15. Its modes of applying dividends are more numerous and more advantageous than those of any other Company in the World.
16. It issues all the popular styles of policy, including "Ten Year Non-Forfeiting" and "Endowment Policies."
17. The amount of new business during the year, ending December 1, 1869, was $51,021,041.
18. Its Policies average larger in amount than those of any other Company, showing that Capitalists select the Equitable for purposes of investment.
19. The profits of the business are apportioned to the assured on the "Contribution Plan," which is conceded to be the only equitable mode of division, and not by the mode adopted by many Companies.
20. It is as liberal in the conduct of its business as is consistent with the safety of the assured, and does not sacrifice proper caution to an ambition to increase the nominal amount of its business, as is the case with many new Companies.
21. It is the favorite Company in the United States, as is shown by its new business last year, being nearer $13,000,000 greater than any other Company.
